

My Chiropractic Experience

“We started to see more productive things happen once he was under chiropractic care.”

My name is Desiree Rinehart and this is my son Dylan Rinehart. Dylan is on the autism spectrum and before chiropractic we did a lot of biomedical intervention. It seemed like it got us to really good places but we started to see more things happen that were more productive once we started him under chiropractic care. Scarily enough we were told that Dylan would not be able to function in a regular classroom, that he would always need special education. We were actually told not to waste money on alternative care. That he was always going to need care in the future. Now, he is actually main stream in four classes. He is doing remarkable well. He is communicating much more; he is seeking the attention of other people, outside the family which he wouldn't do before. His speech has just gone through the roof! Chiropractic care is probably the most amazing things we have come in contact with. I know we would not be where we are today without it. Absolutely everyone needs chiropractic care and I just didn't realize that until I brought my son here. Maximized Living is a way of life. It's the way everyone should live in this toxic world.
